Acceptable Exam Proctors

Proctors are needed when any member needs to write a final exam for the following courses: CNA101, CNA102, CNA103, CNA104, DAR exam, unless you are a Candidate Member.

As a CM, you should have your Supervisor proctor your exams, except when you write the DAR exam, this must be completed with a Proctor.

Examples of acceptable proctors (i.e: Professional Office with a governing body)

- Community Colleges
- Accounting offices
- Legal offices
- Notary offices
- Real Estate Board offices
- Medical Doctors offices
- Public Libraries
- CNAREA Board of Director's offices
- CNAREA Regional Affairs Representative offices
- A credited Post-Secondary Institution

Exams are to be written in an office setting. No material or devices are allowed to be used when completing the exam. Calculators are permitted.

Please note that all associated costs with arranging for a proctor is the responsibility of the member taking the exam. Once you have made contact with a willing proctor, please have them contact CNAREA directly at education@cnarea.ca to confirm the date and time you have scheduled to write the exam, and for further instruction.
